

TIPS & TRICKS

Ellis Brazier

reveals how to mix a soup mix for spodding

SPODDING A SONU SOUP MIX

This is one of the best ways to catch fish when other tactics are not working. It requires effort and is messy but the results are definitely worth it. Basically it is about creating a feeding area over a Zig Rig.

The mix I use for this is one bag of Hemp & Hali Crush, half a bag of Supercarp Method Mix, one Bag of S-Pellet Groundbait, a tin of chopped luncheon meat, a tin of tuna, a mixture of pop ups which have been through the blender, some Sonubaits Red Dye, and lots of water. This should be mixed together to the consistency of a thick soup.

Firstly cast out a Zig Rig with a Boosted Popup Wrap and clip a spod rod to the same distance. It is a good idea to tape over most of the holes to reduce spillage.

Then consistently cast over the zig rig with the spod. This forms a cloud and a huge amount of attraction. On the right day it's a devastating method.

