Ian Day reveals how to reduce your feed but keep attraction.

ATTRACTIVE COOL WATER BAG MIX

As the water starts to cool down in Autumn I like to change my bag mix for one that has less food and more visual attraction.

I find that a simple mix of Hemp & Hali Crush and Exploding Fishmeal Feeder, mixed approximately 50/50 creates a lighter, more active mix, which gives off more attraction in colder water.

It's also important to cut down on the amount of bait around your hookbait. I reduce the size of the PVA stocking I use to about the size of a cherry tomato. This doesn't look much in size but it is still attractive to the carp. Remember the fish tend not to feed as much as it gets colder so you are fishing for a bite rather than lots of fish.

One of these bags with a 10mm Pineapple Boosted Wrap cast to a showing fish will more often than not result in a pick up.
