

TIPS & TRICKS

Lee Robbins

reveals how to use small amounts of feed to buy bites.

OILY BAG FISHING FOR EXTRA IMPACT

When fishing pressured waters, it's a well known fact that fish can often be put off by big beds of bait. I have found by fishing a very intensely oily PVA bag can buy you that extra bite. The SonuBaits Hemp and Hali Crush groundbait, combined with a few oily S Pellets is a fantastic way of exploiting a high attractor and quality food source, that will keep releasing oil for hours. Dampened with a small amount of oil (you can use fish oil, or cheaper vegetable oil if you want) or 500ml of water, the mix can be used in both a mesh or a solid PVA bag.

For hookbait I often use a highly visual SonuBaits Pineapple Boosted Wrap Boilie, although you can use alternative hookbaits with good effect. The secret of the method is the highly attractive little bundle of food that any wary carp will find hard to ignore.

